DEDICATION

Political science study research is indeed a source of exhilaration, especially when exploring A Study Of Prime Minister's. Kind of marvelous.

Thanks to Prof. M H Shirahatti. For encouraging the study of "A Study Of Prime Minister's".

This is an attempt by students like us to do research, and one of our lecturers today is Professor of Political Science. For Prof. M H Shirahatti, we are Sangamesha Lakkappagol, Sangamesha Gani, Danamma Balawad, Chaitra Chinchakhandi, Vidya Halli, Bharati Teradal, Sudha Hiremath, Rajashree Hiremath, Jayashree Hiremath, Danamma Mudhol. We all dedicate heartily.

PREFACE

Sangamesha Lakkappagol, Sangamesha Gani, Danamma Balawad, Chaitra Chinchakhandi, Vidya Halli, Bharati Teradal, Sudha Hiremath, Rajashree Hiremath, Jayashree Hiremath, Danamma Mudhol. And a man who is a great man and a master of writing, we are a master of writing. It is a good tendency to give up on writing work in this age of educating. As a result they show me a copy of their diligently titled "A Study Of Prime Minister's".

When asked to write, we gladly accepted. The scope of this is huge – but with some certainly, their goal is to graphically present, with no compunction, they have succeeded in achieving this goal fairly.

It contains information on a total of 14 Prime Ministers. Each attempting to write neatly. Also, many pictures have come out nicely and the highlighting of the highlights is a positive addition.

Source : His efforts are encouraging for two reasons, one that is embedded with illustrative information to push competition in today's competitive era, while the latter is less of a favourite among study writers than those who like writing-writing. I hope that his study will gain more traction and inspire others.

Prof. Dr. Manohar Shirahatti
